october 2011 in the dying days of the libyan civil war muammar gaddafi is hiding out in his home town of sirte along with his closest advisors they await a convoy that will take them south away from encroaching rebel forces and nato aerial attacks the mood is sombre in what will be his final night gaddafi reflects on an extraordinary life whilst still raging against the west his fellow arab nations and the ingratitude of the libyan people in this gripping imagining of the last hours of president gaddafi yasmina khadra provides us with fascinating insight into the mind of one of the most complex and controversial figures of recent history absorbing compelling and beautifully written its ending brought me close to tears beth o leary bestselling author of the flatshare for fans of the big sick and nick hornby a magnetic debut novel about a young man who has hidden a romance from his parents unable to choose between familial obligation and the future he truly wants if love really is a choice how do you decide where your loyalties lie it s the countdown to the new year and nur is steeling himself to tell his parents that he s seeing someone a young british pakistani man nur has spent years omitting details about his personal life to maintain his image as the golden child and it s come at a cost once nur was a restless college student struggling to fit in at a party he meets yasmina a beautiful and self possessed aspiring journalist they start a conversation first awkward then absorbing and as their relationship develops so too does nur s self destruction he falls deeper into traps of his own making attempting to please both yasmina and his family until he must finally reveal the truth yasmina is black and he loves her deftly transporting readers between that first night and the years beyond kasim ali s good intentions exposes with unblinking authenticity the complexities of immigrant families and racial prejudice it is a crackling wryly clever depiction of standing on the precipice of adulthood piecing together who it is you re meant to be par quel cheminement aberrant un homme ordinaire peut il sans crier gare sombrer dans l horreur de la folie c est ce glissement inexorable que nous décrit yasmina khadra à travers l histoire de nafa walid un jeune acteur qui rêvait de gloire et de pactole avant de se réveiller au coeur même du cauchemar imagine becoming accustomed to terror on a daily basis imagine finding it normal to betray your neighbor imagine your worst fears being replaced by complacency your natural compassion by cold indifference in the name of god illustrates the way evil can become a part of everyday life and it is the story of algeria today superintendent brahim llob is bored nothing seems to need his attention in an unusually peaceful algiers then suddenly peace is shattered in ways llob could never have imagined his subordinate lieutenant lino falls for an entirely unsuitable woman and is devastated when she returns to a previous lover the wealthy and influential haj thobane thobane survives an attempted murder that kills his chauffeur and lino's gun is found at the scene with lino languishing in prison it is up to llob to face down the corrupt echelons of the algerian government to find the truth about what happened the night of the murder the search will take the world weary llob down avenues even he has never encountered and will force him to delve into his beloved country's brutal past of dreams and assassins is the urgent and rhythmic fourth novel of malika mokeddem her second to appear in english born in algeria to a bedouin family that had only recently become sedentary mokeddem was raised on the stories of her grandmother who encouraged her education at a time when girls did not go to school though raised in a tolerant version of islam mokeddem nevertheless felt the weight of custom and tradition of dreams and assassins though not strictly autobiographical evokes through the beauty and vastness and oppressive heat of the desert mokeddem's early yearning for freedom through its heroine kenza and her simultaneous rebellion and immersion in the literary classics at a boarding school the novel dramatizes the possibilities for women to express their identities kenza is an exile first in her own society and later in france born during a visit to montpellier in the year of algerian independence she returns with her mother to oran to find her father has taken another wife her mother leaves alone never to return kenza's subsequent search for herself through the mother she doesn't know told in a frank first person narrative mirrors the struggle of algerian women to make a place in a society that has stripped them of their rights in spite of their crucial participation in the war for independence kenza's suffocating childhood in the house of her boisterous leering father is broken only by summers in the desert where the dates become golden brown and gleam like little clusters of suns that mock the children eventually kenza like mokeddem herself leaves her home to go to school in montpellier because she can no longer tolerate life in algeria of dreams and assassins is a protest against the subjugation of women in algeria and the violence of the last ten years perpetrated by fundamentalist muslim guerrillas in exile kenza puts her hope in métissage the blending of cultures embodied by the character of slim her friend and confidant who lives happily with his mixed race origins kenza s story dramatizes mokeddem s belief that the future of algeria lies in its women and in education only through liberation and education can the pain of kenza s exile be redeemed the instant 1 new york times bestseller in time for the twentieth anniversary of 9 11 master storyteller alan gratz refugee delivers a pulse pounding and unforgettable take on history and hope revenge and fear and the stunning links between the past and present september 11 2001 new york city brandon is visiting his dad at work on the 107th floor of the world trade center out of nowhere an airplane slams into the tower creating a fiery nightmare of terror and confusion and brandon is in the middle of it all can he survive and escape september 11 2019 afghanistan reshmina has grown up in the shadow of war but she dreams of peace and progress when a battle erupts in her village reshmina stumbles upon a wounded american soldier named taz should she help taz and put herself and her family in mortal danger two kids one devastating day nothing will ever be the same the book that best describes how an islamic fundamentalist is formed new york times how does a handsome young man who keeps company with poets and dreams of fame and fortune in the movie business turn into a brutal killer who massacres women and children without turning a hair the story follows nafa walid heart throb of the casbah

as he gradually loses control of his destiny and becomes drawn into the islamic fundamentalist movement wolf dreams illustrates what happens when disillusion intersects with the persuasive voice of fundamentalism and the chaos of civil war such was the battle that raged between cousin k and me good done badly evil done well so relates the unnamed narrator of cousin k as he launches into the sad tale of his childhood with his father brutally killed as a traitor during algeria s war of independence and his older brother an army officer far away the young boy lives reclusively with his mother an unfeeling woman who ignores him entirely at fourteen he directs his thirst for affection toward his nine year old cousin k who has come to stay with his family for the summer but so far from reciprocating his passionate regard for her the little girl steals the affections of his mother and mocks and humiliates him resulting in his love becoming hopelessly entangled with hatred now fate places a young woman in the narrator s path when he rescues her after a violent attack from her he once more begs for the love that his mother and k always refused him and her rejection revives the same hatred and illuminates the permanent emotional scars left on him from a lifetime of emotional neglect and derision resulting in dire consequences unlock the more straightforward side of the swallows of kabul with this concise and insightful summary and analysis this engaging summary presents an analysis of the swallows of kabul by yasmina khadra a haunting tale of two couples living under the yoke of the taliban in kabul as they are beset by illness oppression loss and terror their lives gradually become intertwined and a glimmer of hope filters through the darkness even as despair threatens to consume them all yasmina khadra is the pen name of mohammed moulessehouli a former officer in the algerian army who retired to france to pursue an award winning literary career find out everything you need to know about the swallows of kabul in a fraction of the time this in trespass mernissi weaves her own memories with the dreams and memories of the women who surrounded her in the courtyard of her youth women who without access to the world outside recreated it from sheer imagination a beautifully written account of a girl confronting the mysteries of time and place gender and sex dreams of trespass illuminates what it was like to be a modern muslim woman in a place steeped in tradition the third novel in yasmina khadra s bestselling trilogy about islamic fundamentalism has the most compelling backdrop of any of his novels iraq in the wake of the american invasion a young iraqi student unable to attend college because of the war sees american soldiers leave a trail of humiliation and grief in his small village bent on revenge he flees to the chaotic streets of baghdad where insurgents soon realize they can make use of his anger eventually he is groomed for a secret terrorist mission meant to dwarf the attacks of september 11th only to find himself struggling with moral qualms the sirens of baghdad is a powerful look at the effects of violence on ordinary people showing what can turn a decent human being into a weapon and how the good in human nature can resist compelling khadra brings us deep into the hearts and minds of people living in unspeakable mental anguish los angeles times born in switzerland writer isabelle eberhardt spent most of her adult life in north africa where she gained the reputation of being an anti colonial figure on account of her friendship with the natives this book shows that she was less interested in defending the colonized than in fulfilling her personal quests for heroism and literary success award winning author yasmina khadra gives us a stunning panorama of life in algeria between the two world wars in this dramatic story of one man s rise from abject poverty to a life of wealth and adulation even as a child living hand to mouth in a ghetto turambo dreamt of a better future so when his family find a decent home in the city of oran anything seems possible but colonial algeria is no place to be ambitious for those of arab berber ethnicity through a succession of menial jobs the constants for turambo are his rage at the injustice surrounding him and a reliable left hook this last opens the door to a boxing apprenticeship which will ultimately offer turambo a choice to take his chance at sporting greatness or choose a simpler life beside the woman he loves throughout my childhood my grandmother yasmina who was illiterate and grew up in a harem repeated that to travel is the best way to learn and to empower yourself when a woman decides to use her wings she takes big risks she would tell me but she was convinced that if you didn't use them it hurt so recalls fatema mernissi at the outset of her mesmerizing new book of all the lessons she learned from her grandmother whose home was after all a type of prison the most central was that the opportunity to cross boundaries was a sacred privilege indeed in journeys both physical and mental mernissi has spent virtually all of her life traveling determined to use her wings and to renounce her gender's alleged legacy of powerlessness bursting with the vitality of mernissi's personality and of her rich heritage scheherazade goes west reveals the author's unique experiences as a liberated independent moroccan woman faced with the peculiarities and unexpected encroachments of western culture her often surprising discoveries about the conditions of and attitudes toward women around the world and the exquisitely embroidered amalgam of clear-eyed autobiography and dazzling meta-fiction by which she relates those assorted discoveries add up to a deliciously wry engagingly cosmopolitan and deeply penetrating narrative in her previous bestselling works mernissi widely recognized as the world's greatest living koranic scholar and islamic sociologist has shed unprecedented light on the lives of women in the middle east now as a writer and scholarly veteran of the high wire act of straddling disparate societies she trains her eyes on the female culture of the west for her book's inspired central metaphor mernissi turns to the ancient islamic tradition of oral storytelling illuminating her grandmother's feminized subversive and highly erotic take on scheherazade's wife preserving tales from the arabian nights and then ingeniously applying them to her own lyrically embellished personal narrative interwoven with vivid ruminations on her childhood her education and her various international travels are the author's piquant musings on a range of deeply embedded societal conditions that add up mernissi argues to a veritable western harem a provocative and lively challenge to the common assumption that women have it so much better in the west than anywhere else in the world mernissi's book is an entrancing and timely look at the way we live here and now by inspiring us to reconsider even the most commonplace aspects of our culture with fresh eyes and a healthy dose of suspicion scheherazade goes west offers an invigorating candid and entertaining new perspective on the themes and ideas to which betty friedan first turned us on nearly forty years ago red green and blue these three color coded issues chart the artistic journey of zineb sedira culminating in her presentation for the french pavilion at the 59th international art exhibition la biennale di venezia 2022 a cross between a newspaper and a magazine paying tribute to such innovative maghrebi publications of the 1970s as les 2 écrans or souffles this generically hybrid publication is conceived as an alternative to the catalogue in the traditional sense 00each issue refers to a city algiers paris and venice that has played an important part in sedira's life and artistic formation sub titled forms of desire tools of agitation and conserve show restage revivify respectively the three issues effectively reproduce the structure of a screenplay in three acts set up confrontation and resolution they function as a space of encounter that brings together members of zineb sedira's extended artistic and intellectual family in featuring a
